

After greeting:

Women in the Syrian society suffered great suffering which made them vulnerable to physical and physical exploitation and all kinds of potential violence that may occur in times of war which necessitated support at various levels of psychological health family and subsistence at a time when the attention of all organizations focused on relief and service support the women's association for community development was founded by an association dedicated to women's affairs.

Our definition:

Community-based community voluntary association that aims to support women at all levels of psychological educational family service and education in all stages of life and to promote this group of society and alleviate the suffering of war and the woes that occurred to women during the war in Syria>

Our activity on the ground:

- 1- We have a special office in Dara
- 2- We have done several courses for women under different titles (dealing with gender-based violence and gender the issue of gender and its effects on women in society and others)
- 3- Literacy courses for women in different ages.
- 4- Work to create effective cooperation with organization and actors on the ground.

Manger of public relationship office.

Mohammed al Shaban